WHO WE ARE.

We are more than just a steel structures manufacturing company.

We have goals and dreams and we know that the best way to achieve them is together. Our mission is to work hard for building increasingly resilient infrastructure while also creating new job opportunities which can have a positive impact on the whole community's wellbeing. For this, we strive to foster strong and dynamic synergies with companies, stakeholders, industries. We are committed to shape a socially and economically sustainable future for everybody.

LEVSTAL GROUP.

Levstal Group is a family company with a yearly turnover of 30 million euros. The company is owned by Filipp Levada, but was founded by his father Viktor Levada in Tallinn already in 1991. Since that time, the company has expanded its services and product range. Today, Levstal is working on large-scale projects and has become the market leader in the manufacturing of steel structures in Estonia.

A man with a beard and glasses, wearing a white hard hat and a high-visibility yellow and blue jacket, is holding a tablet. He is standing in a large industrial facility, possibly a factory or warehouse, with various pieces of equipment and structural elements visible in the background. The lighting is bright, with several overhead lights. In the foreground, the back of a woman's head and shoulder is visible; she is also wearing a white hard hat and a high-visibility yellow and blue jacket. She is pointing towards a large white panel or screen that the man is looking at. The overall scene suggests a collaborative work environment in a technical or industrial setting.
